Webinar on 'Contours of Judicial Appointment in India: Journey through Constitutional Amendment'- 8th August 2020

The college had proudly conducted a National webinar on the theme of dated 'Contours of Judicial Appointment in India: Journey through Constitutional Amendment' 8th August 2020 on the digital platform. As the year 2020 has been going through the pandemic situation of COVID 19, the College is still playing an instrumental role in imparting legal knowledge through conducting such kind of thoughtful webinars on the different legal themes. The motto behind conducting these kinds of webinars is to help all law students and aspiring legal professionals in their upcoming careers.

This webinar is very unique as it has open access to all students, academicians, and professionals without charging any cost of Registration fees. We have circulated the Registration link and also provide digital ways to all registered participants to send their questions relating to the theme of the webinar. This process of gathering questions before the webinar helped the Honourable speaker to answer these questions asked by the participants during the session without any interruption.

The program initiated with the welcome speech delivered by Asst. Prof. Amar Salve with a beautiful quotation by Alexander Hamilton, "No man ought certainly to be a judge in his own cause, or in any cause in respect to which he has the least Interest or bias." Our honorable principal Dr. Madhura Kalamkar madam had greeted all the dignitaries with a warm welcome and given the brief introduction of our webinar Guest Speaker Dr. Varsha Deshpande madam.

We were extremely honored to have Dr. Varsha Deshpande madam as our webinar guest speaker as she is a very eminent academician and public figure. In her address, the guest speaker had given a very concrete idea about article 124 of the Constitution of India which speaks about the appointment of the judiciary in India. She had also covered a different aspect of judicial appointment in India with the help of four landmark case laws in Indian Judicial history.

The question answers session started by our honorable principal madam with the beautiful quotation given by our father of nation Mahatma Gandhiji which emphasized the importance of truth and justice in the legal system. Our guest speaker had given very satisfactory answers to the questions asked by participants during the online session through messaging in the chatbox. The formal vote of thanks was delivered by Asst. Prof. Amar Salve with very humble words of gratitude towards all the dignitaries and participants. In the end, the feedback form link was provided to all participants and they all received their participation E-certificated through their registered email address. The webinar success was denoted by an overwhelmed response by registered participants across the country and their promising feedback.
